State Political Scrap Holds Key to Republicans' Choice

(Reprinted from June 21 issue of Time magazine with permission of Time Inc.)
PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—The political cauldron is boiling in this normally staid old Quaker City this week as the nation's Republicans begin arriving for their 24th National convention. Certain of victory after 16 years of Democratic rule, the Republicans will open their convention Monday with a spirit of confidence that will be matched only by the determination of each faction that its man will win.

HOUSE AGREES TO DELAY DRAFT

Votes to Shelve Measure Until 1949; Filibuster Threatened in Senate

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The House voted amid furious argument today to postpone the draft until 1949, and a prospective Senate filibuster against the measure threatened to wreck leaders' plans to adjourn Congress Saturday night.

Senator Taylor (D-Ia) announced he would try to talk the selective service measure to death. Senator Taft of Ohio, GOP leader, said that if a filibuster is launched, Congress will recess for the Republican national convention next week and come back later. Previously it had been planned to knock off for the year on Saturday night.

During the House balloting over the draft bill, backers of the measure produced a statement quoting Secretary of State Marshall as saying that backing away from "our present line of action for the security of the United States" might mean war.

THE HOUSE HELD an overtime session on the draft measure tonight, with a final vote set for tomorrow.

During the afternoon, in a debate so hot that voices sometimes rose to screams, the House tentatively accepted, 125 to 90, an amendment to put off inducing any men for the armed services until after next Jan. 31.

Offered by Rep. Shafer (R-Mich), the amendment provides that the selective service law would go on the books now. But registrations and inductions could not start until February, 1949, at the earliest, and then only if the President determined (Continued on Page Nine)

Chester Springs Youth Hurt in Bike-Car Crash

J. Allen Beard, 16, of Chester Springs, sustained a deep laceration of the left arm yesterday afternoon when the motorbike he was riding collided with a taxicab near his home.

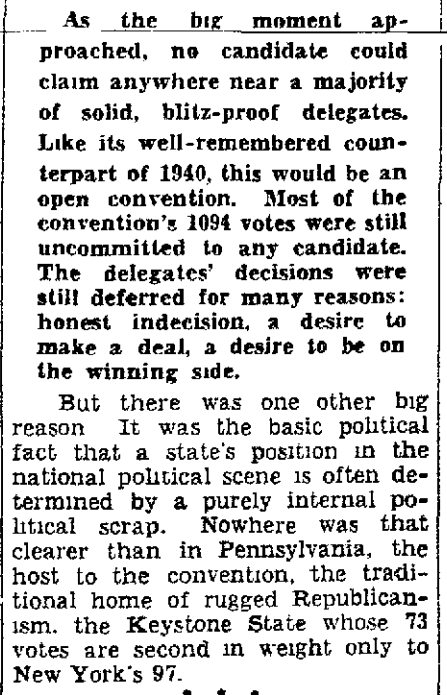

The cab driver, Robert McClaskey, 24, Phoenixville, told Cpl. James P. Updyke, of Devon State police, that as he went straight ahead on Yellow Springs road onto a township road, the bike came around the bend the opposite way, into his path.

Beard was taken to the office of Dr. D. B. Rulon, Phoenixville, where five sutures closed the cut.

THE WEATHER

For Eastern Pennsylvania: Increasing cloudiness and slightly warmer today with scattered showers by tonight and tomorrow. Cooler tomorrow afternoon.

Retired Berks Patrolman, J. B. Goggins Accuses Each Other at Reading Trial

READING, June 17.—Drivers of both cars in an accident which killed two persons the past Fall accused each other in court today of having driven on the wrong side of the road.

One of the drivers, James R. Goggins, 27, of Hilldale, is accused of involuntary manslaughter arising out of the death of his 38-year-old wife, Rose, and one-year-old niece, Sandra Lee Chandler, in a spectacular crash Nov. 2 in Reading.

The case, being tried before Judge Forrest R. Shanahan and a jury of eight women and four men in criminal court, was expected to go to the jury tomorrow after the judge's charge.

THE DRIVER OF The other car in the accident, Paul J. Koller, retired Reading policeman, one of the witnesses called to the stand by the Commonwealth, testified that Goggins' car was headed east on Perkinson avenue on the left side of the road.

When he (Koller) saw the lights of the approaching car he swerved farther to his own side of the street, he claimed, but could not avoid being sideswiped.

After stopping his car, the retired patrolman went on, he stepped out and saw Goggins' car turn a somersault with the still-burning headlights tracing an arc in the sky. The accident occurred at 4 a. m.

GOGGINS, SUMMONED as a witness by his counsel, Robert G. Bushong and Henry M. Koch, told a different story.

The Firestone Tire and Rubber company employee told the court he saw Koller's oncoming vehicle turn left toward him, giving him the impression that Koller had just turned onto the avenue from Fourteenth street.

Hillcrest Families to Erect Fence, Build Table for New Playground

Representatives of 25 Hillcrest families voted to build a fence and buy materials for a table, for their new playground, at their meeting last night.

The Hillcrest Playground association gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis J. Tholan, 994 North Hicks boulevard, to discuss the furnishing of the site that the Recreation commission is improving for them.

They were told recently that the commission also would provide a full-time supervisor after July 1, but the neighborhood must furnish its own equipment.

A reserve fund will be built up by encouraging family memberships, at $2 each, it was announced.

THE FENCE, starting with a 160-foot section along Keim street, will be erected by men of Hillcrest, who also will build a picnic table and benches for 30 youngsters.

Meanwhile, a flagpole for the Hillcrest playground is under construction, and a revolving see-saw has been promised to the families who are working to develop the playground.

July 1 will be the opening date as far as the recreation commission is concerned, but the (Continued on Page Nine)

TWO-CENT HIKE IN MILK PRICE FORECAST HERE

Increase for Farmers Cited as Reason; Shortage This Fall Also Predicted

Pottstown housewives will be paying 22 cents a quart for milk in a few months.

That was the prediction yesterday of W. P. Anderson, vice president of the Suburban Milk Dealers' association.

Anderson said the consumer can expect to pay two to two and a half cents over present prices for a quart of milk in October as a result of an anticipated increase in milk prices to be paid to the farmers.

In addition, Anderson predicted there would be a shortage of milk in this area in the Fall.

A HEARING ON the increased price to be paid to the farmers in the Reading-Berks milk marketing area, which includes Pottstown, will be held by the State Milk Control commission in the Berkshire hotel, Reading, at 10 o'clock next Friday morning, H. N. Cobb, chairman, announced. Local milk dealer Walter Grow, of the Cloverleaf Dairy, said he expected to attend the hearing.

The boost in the price of milk is expected to come about because of a request by farmers in the Philadelphia area for a price of $5.50 per hundredweight during July, August, and September, and a price of $6.30 per hundredweight in October, November and December.

Philadelphia farmers are under Federal government control and, Anderson asserted, it is almost certain their request will be granted.

AS A RESULT, he explained, prices in this area will have to go up accordingly to prevent the farmers from shipping their milk to Philadelphia to receive the higher price. Grow confirmed this statement.

Another reason for the price rise is the fact that farmers now can profit more by butchering their dairy herds than they can by selling milk, Anderson went on. High meat prices have caused a number of farmers to sell all or part of their herds to slaughterhouses.

This same situation caused a milk shortage the past year which was alleviated only by the shipment of milk to this area from as far as Michigan and Wisconsin. It is one of the factors upon which Anderson bases his prediction of a shortage again this Fall.

Perish in Flaming Airliner

Two Boyertown residents, George H. Harries, 37, (left) and his 32-year-old wife, Betty, were among 43 persons killed instantly in Mount Carmel yesterday when an airliner exploded 30 feet from the ground. The couple was returning from California to their home and 4-year-old son.

INJURIES FATAL TO WOMAN HERE

Mrs. Mary Ash Dies Six Days After Fall Down Flight of Stairs

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Ash, 80, of Philadelphia, who suffered multiple serious injuries in a fall here the past Friday and whose six-day fight for life was termed "remarkable" by her physician, died yesterday.

Death, induced by a cerebral hemorrhage, came in the Memorial hospital at 3:30 p. m.

Mrs. Ash had been visiting her great nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. William Hartman Jr., 665 Hawthorne avenue, when she fell down a flight of stairs.

Examined by Dr. J. E. P. Burns, Roversford, at the hospital, it was found that the elderly woman sustained seven broken ribs, a crushed left chest wall and flooding of the left lung with blood, fracture of the upper left arm, compound fracture of the lower left arm, broken collar bone and multiple lacerations.

IN ADDITION, Dr. Burns said he believed the fall was precipitated by a stroke.

Bally Firm Official, Wife Are Victims of Mt. Carmel Tragedy

The Boyertown parents of a 4-year-old son died yesterday afternoon as a United Airlines DC6 plane smashed into a power line near Mount Carmel and exploded into flames, killing all 43 occupants.

George H. Harries, 37, and his wife, Betty, 32, of 20 North Monroe street, Boyertown, were returning from California aboard the plane.

One motor burst into flames. As the pilot brought it within 30 feet of the ground for an emergency landing, the huge plane crashed into a 60,000-volt transformer at 1:41 o'clock.

An eye-witness said, "Flames and smoke flew about 90 feet in the air." Bodies of nearly all 39 passengers and four crew members were burned or torn beyond any recognition.

Wreckage, torn limbs, luggage, rings and watches were scattered over the acre of woodland. Another witness said bodies were thrown nearly atop a 100-foot hill, at the foot of which the plane crashed.

AMONG THE OTHER victims of the crash—the fourth worst in the history of domestic aviation—was Earl Carroll, theatrical producer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harries left for California the past May 8, intending to combine a vacation with a business trip for Mr. Harries, who is secretary and assistant treasurer of the Bally Ribbon Mills.

A neighbor, Mrs. Finley Koons, 537 East Fourth street, Boyertown, and her daughter, Barbara, who often acted as baby sitter for little Raymond Harries, said that Mrs. Harries had told them she had a premonition of disaster.

On the Saturday they left Boyertown, the mother and daughter asserted, Mrs. Harries told them: "I had a dream last night. I saw the plane go up in flames. Then we came down, as fast as can be."

Mrs. Harries said she didn't want to make the trip, Mrs. Koons added, but then decided to go lest she disappoint her husband.

THE HARRIES' HOME was prepared yesterday for their homecoming. Two vases and a bowl of red roses had been placed in the living room as a welcome by the boy's grandmother, Mrs. H. D. Harries, Paterson, N. J., who had been staying with Raymond since the parents left.

The son was not told immediately of the tragedy, although he knew far more about airplanes than the average child. His father often talked about planes with him, since his business had included the making of parachute tapes.

Details of the crash, which occurred in Northumberland county, less than 100 miles from the Harries' home, were still pouring in last night.

Mrs. Jack Oakie, divorced wife of the film comedian, and actress Beryl Wallace were among the passengers. But their bodies, like those of the others, were unrecognizable.

STATE POLICE said the plane burst into flames after hitting the wire then caromed 200 feet into a hillside.

The time of the crash was fixed (Continued on Page Nine)

Not 'Whole Body' Left In Area of Air Crash

By LEONARD A. UNGER
MT. CARMEL, June 17 (AP)—There is no such thing as a whole body in the desolation left by the crash of a United Airlines plane in this little mining community.

Legs, arms, fingers, heads were strewn about leaving a hopeless task for coroner John Evans. A shocked Rev. P. J. Phelan, of nearby Centralia, walked among the victims or what was left of them trying to find some over which to administer final rites.

Scattered about the flaming area of more than an acre of scrub land were articles that only minutes earlier adorned the personages of living people. Watches, rings, bracelets, articles of clothing were gathered up by somber, awe-stricken spectators.

Visibly shaken were the 80 workers who came close to death when the stricken plane barely missed crashing into a colliery breaker in which they were working.

CAPT. GEORGE WARNER JR., pilot of the ill-fated plane crashed after veering away from the breaker which extended 265 feet into the air.

George Bolich Sr., 47, of Wilburton, was operating a mine locomotive with Jack Bradley of Catawissa, when he saw the plane coming in at 100 feet from the ground.

"I sure was afraid when he winged over my head. After he hit it was quiet except for the licking of flames. That was just about the worst thing I ever saw."

"It shook the whole colliery of face building," said Clerk John D. Carey, of Lost Creek.

"SOME OF OUR MEN ran up the bank but everything was burning in a wide area," he said.

Joseph De Meli, 4-year-old railroad worker, said, "We heard an awful roar in the sky. We glanced (Continued on Page Nine)"

Ominous Quiet Hanging Over Water Fracas

Quiet settled over the pending water-battleground yesterday as Pottstown policemen and Good Will firemen made their last preparations for Sunday's set-to.

Four on a team, the cops and firefighters will battle with water hoses on land and in the Manatony creek at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, with the proceeds going to The Mercury Relief Fund.

On land, the idea will be to knock over the other battlers with a stream from the firemen's trusty hose.

In the creek, each team will stand in a flat-bottomed boat. The two boats will be chained so that the battlers can't drift too far apart for the stream of water to matter.

The first boat to capsize will carry the losers with it to the depths of defeat.

ALL OF THIS WILL be a revival of the traditional water battles the firemen and policemen used to have before the war.

Fighting for the honor of Pottstown's police force Sunday will be Motor Patrolman Robert Houser and Patrolmen Robert Scheidt, Joseph K. Thees and Charles Stetler.

The firemen will be James V. Guadagno, Robert Smith, Edward Vallish and Douglas Breidenbach.

Robert Roth, Goodies' chief, promised that he charged of heavyweights can withstand anything the police can throw their way, while Houser, captaining his team, gave a confident assurance that the firemen will sink home like drowned cats.

Toughest Test for Mibs King To Be Right in Own Backyard

Marbles King Carl Petrucci will meet his toughest competition, not at Wildwood, N. J., where he will represent Pottstown and The Mercury in the national tournament next week but right here at home when he returns.

Carl has been challenged to play a match by his older brother, Frank, for the championship of the Petrucci family.

Frank, a student at Benjamin Franklin university, Washington, D. C. followed his brother's progress to the championship of the greater Pottstown area through the pages of The Mercury. When Carl clinched the championship the challenge came in Frank's next letter home.

"YOU MAY BE CHAMPION of Pottstown," Frank wrote, "but you will have to beat me for the championship of the family. You had better start practicing now."

The duel will bring two champion mibsters together, for Frank also won the Pottstown championship when he was a grade school pupil. The brothers are expected to knuckle down shortly after Frank returns to Pottstown for his summer vacation on June 27.

FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1948

When thou hast truly thanked the Lord for every blessing sent, but little time will then remain for murmur or lament.

A Test of Ability

POTTSTOWN had better make up its mind now that it'll have to do something itself about low-rent housing.

What Pottstown had of grabbing a portion of the funds in the National Housing Act of 1949 (often called the Taft-Ellender-Wagner Act) went glimmering Wednesday when the House killed the bill. The T-E-W act would have provided Federal finances for constructing 500,000 low-rent homes.

Now, if the Pottstown housing shortage is to be eased, it's up to Pottstown!

No longer can opponents of public housing hide behind the excuse that the bill might be passed. No longer can the opponents of public housing use delaying tactics engendered in Washington.

Maybe it's a good thing the National Housing Act was killed. Pottstown may be forced to stand on its own feet.

If Pottstown borough officials are sincere in their pledges to veterans, to the many unprivileged families who are living in tents, chicken coops and other sub-standard homes, they had better decide now to do something about housing.

They can't point to Pottstown contractors and say: "They'll take care of the housing shortage." True, Pottstown contractors are putting up homes. Maybe 100 this year. But the poor can't pay the $8500 to $17,000 contractors want for their homes. The poor wants homes to rent!

Pottstown has got to build low-rent houses.
Pottstown can do it by floating a bond issue, by forming a housing authority and putting up the homes! Possibly a referendum on floating a loan is needed. There's time enough to arrange that for the November election.

All that is needed now is some qualities of leadership and aggressiveness displayed by borough officials. Let them take the necessary steps!

In the past few years Pottstown borough officials have relied too much on persons outside the official family to perform municipal duties. They had a citizens committee equalize the assessments. They had a citizens committee campaign for funds for a municipal airport.

Can't Pottstown borough officials stand on their own feet?

The necessity for easing the housing shortage will be a test. Let see of what stuff our borough officials are made!

Our Year of Decision

THIS is more than just another year of Presidential candidates, platforms, campaigns, and politics. The American people, under a great Constitution, dedicate one year in four to a decisive part of their continuous task of governing themselves. Events make some of these years more solemn than others. Events have made 1948 a year of heavy responsibility.

Will America possess the power and the patience to keep the governments of the world from sinking all people into conflict and chaos?

Will Americans resolutely hold to their ideal of individual freedom, and keep this U.S.A. a place where people are superior to government?

Can there be peace outside and order inside the country, so that our young men and all of us can live without constant crises and alarms?

The hearts of people are devoted to making a living, to enjoying homes and families, to improving communities. The duty of government is to protect these and other basic individual rights.

Should we not, then, devote 1948 to a great national revival of devotion to simple freedom, to rebuilding moral standards, and to recovering the spiritual powers that belong to us?

America is people, and all of us are people whose real ideals are the plain and decent ideals that human experience has long since verified. Most of them are expressed in the Ten Commandments and in the Sermon on the Mount.

These should be part of our political year.
If candidates emerge who embody such ideals, and if the campaigners will insist that two and two make four, that we all get honest pay for honest work, and that government is best when it governs least, perhaps we shall show that self-governing people can still advance the great causes of peace, of order, and of freedom.

Getting Into 'Dog Fight';

If Job Is Too Big . . .

Letters must not be more than 250 words long, of current topics and must not involve personalities. Writers must sign their names and give street address as evidence of good faith but these will be withheld from publication on request.
It is a criminal offense to sign another person's name. Poetry, and communications advocating the election of political candidates are not acceptable.

By MERCURY READERS

Ask One Who Owns One

To the Editor: Being a newcomer to this area I should like to add a third party view to the current "dog fight."

It seems a shame that those who speak against the SPCA have either never owned a dog, or if they have, never truly enjoyed the experience.

Humane societies are therefore a necessity since there are those who have no humanitarian feelings toward animals.

I believe they have a twist in their personalities that would make them much better butchers in meat markets, so that they could work out their frustration in an acceptable occupation. Rather this, than becoming dog catchers, earning a good deal of money turning dogs over to "butchers" rather than to the proper authorities.

The fight has been and will be a long one, but let those who care nothing for dogs stay out of it, and those who do, care for their dogs properly so that science cannot continue its experiments on a family pet whose life was sold for money in a transaction which isn't even above-board in your Pottstown area.

Boyetown PROUD DOG OWNER

Take Lesson From Pipersville

To the Editor: Since "Reactionary" ("Promises. No Action From SPCA") Readers Say, June 16) is so tired of reading of dog bites and longs for a dog-catcher, she should go to Pipersville. I understand many of its residents are indignant because another town's dog-catcher is bringing his dirty work to their clean community. Some have complained to Harrisburg.

Maybe if "Reactionary" opens his big mouth a little wider, Harrisburg will deliver his dogcatcher right back into his arms. There may be some delay, for Harrisburg is slow — but sure.

Better still, if he is so afraid of the big bad doggies in Pottstown, I suggest he travel to Pipersville with the rest of the dog catchers. The more I read and hear of nitwits like "Reactionary," the more I respect the intelligence of a mongrel dog.

No Cops and Robbers Game

To the Editor: Congratulations on your editorial ("Let's Get Together, Boys," June 17). We citizens of Pottstown are glad to know what our councilmen are doing.

If the job is too big for the chairman of the police committee, why doesn't the president of council put someone else in his place?

Playing cops and robbers is for children, but a chairman of the police committee is for a man — a good-hearted citizen who has Pottstown's interests at heart.

And according to your editorial, this chairman is anything but that. I do hope other members of the committee will keep doing a good job, and don't become childish, too.

Pottstown NINTH WARD

His Apology Offered

To the Editor: May I offer my most humble apology to Mrs. Yohn and all affiliated with the Happy Hill playground.
In my recent letter, "No Perfect Race," (Readers Say, June 16), in reference to the project, I mentioned the omission of service by the colored neighbors toward it. After reading your account on the playground I began getting a feeling of one preparing for a visit to the doghouse.

After talking to Mrs. Yohn, I learned that several neighbors were to inform us that our help would be welcome and due to some negligence the neighbors were not informed.

I hope this letter will clear up some of the misunderstanding of the neighbors.
The playground is to serve all regardless of race, color or creed.

Parents who are interested and willing to render service toward its functioning,
I am sure will be accepted.

Deglamorizing Sports Heroes

To the Editor: Grandstand Fan ("Earns His Joy Rides," Readers Say, June 10) is only bating the breeze when he tries to tell us that some of his local sports heroes put Pottstown on the map.
Who's he trying to kid?

Were all of those so-called big time athletes in the game because they wanted to spread Pottstown's fame far and wide?
Certainly not! Most of them were after the old do-re-mi — and they got it, too, as long as they could take the cash!

As for Buck Weaver, we all know of the fame he brought to Pottstown with his part in the Black Sox scandal. To claim him as a native son isn't the kind of boasting we like for Pottstown sports.

Let's not try to glamorize these boys for the sake of proving a point of argument. If their feats don't stand on their merits, no cushy phrases will help them now.

Defeatist Attitude on Housing

To the Editor: I got a big kick out of Burgess Griffiths' comment in The Mercury the other day on the housing bill.
If he sincerely believed that the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill, or its comparable successor, couldn't provide public housing for us here, who did he think it would be?

If the housing bill doesn't pass Congress, we can only blame this defeatist attitude of community leaders. Pressure from local municipalities might have helped enough of it might have taken the wind out of the sails of the big lobbies that fought it.

WASHINGTON

Wanted: 'Sugar Daddy'

For Demos' Campaign

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, June 17—Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath will soon have to scurry around for two or three "angels" willing to "lend" him at least $500,000 each to finance President
Truman's re-election campaign.

Unless he can uncover another John J.
Raskob soon, he will not be able to pay weekly salaries at headquarters here, not to mention the millions required for getting out the vote next November.

Party leaders have their eye on several wealthy men who could advance the sum required if they feel so inclined. Perhaps the most likely touch is Sen.
Theodore Francis Green, of Rhode Island, who looks upon Mr. McGrath as a sort of protege.

Although 81 years old, Senator Green has just been renominated as a climax to the many honors the party has heaped upon him for more than 40 years. The boys in the back room now figure that he can afford to spend, as he is a multimillionaire.

PROSPECTS: Several other prospects stand high on Chairman McGrath's money list, but it is doubtful whether they would feel like making a heavy investment in the present Administration in such a dark year for the Democrats.
Bernard M. Baruch figures in all their calculations, and he could well afford to advance a sizable stake. He has spent many millions in financing independent studies for every Administration since the days of Woodrow Wilson. But Mr.
Baruch has withdrawn even from his extra-curricular activities since the Truman accession, and he has shown no special interest in this Administration.

The two other "angels" who might grow political wings for Mr. McGrath are Edward R. Stettinius, former Secretary of State, and W. Averell Harriman, roving ambassador under the Marshall Plan. Heavy contributions from them, however, would draw Republican charges that the steel (Stettinius) and railroad (Harriman) interests were the Democrats' dough-boys.

In view of labor disputes involving both those industries, contributions or "loans" from them might prove as embarrassing to Mr. Truman as the Raskob underwriting did to the party when Alfred E. Smith was its titular head.

OBJECTIVELY: Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg advances far stronger arguments against his nomination as Republican presidential candidate than do his bitterest rivals. In private talks he discusses reasons against his candidacy as objectively as if he were not even among those mentioned.

The Michigan senator always begins with the assumption that he would serve only one term because of his age and his own preference. He will be 65 years old March 22, 1949, two months after inauguration, and he would be 69 at the beginning of a second term.

Although he is in good physical shape despite an arrested heart condition, he has been a hard and tireless worker since grammar school days. Therefore, he does not feel that he could go through eight years in the White House under the daily pressure that pounds against a President of the United States.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

WHEN JUDY, our only daughter, was four and a half years old, she had a serious accident.

It was cold and we were driving to Indiana to visit some relatives.

En route back I was going about 50 miles an hour. Judy was standing in the back of our car, facing her grandparents for whom she was singing Sunday school songs.

Accidentally she unlatched the door.
The wind immediately caught it, swinging it wide and hurling her out upon the frozen ground.

It all happened so suddenly that nobody in the back could lift a hand to catch her. We could see her lying on the snow, for the ground was covered by an inch or two of it.

Before I reached her, she tried to crawl on her hands and knees. Blood was trickling from the back of her head.

She was moaning and crying. I carried her across the road to a neighboring farmhouse, where I gently laid her on a couch, and maybe you think I wasn't then grateful for my seven years of medical training!

While my parents were worried about the external bleeding from the scalp, I was worried regarding skull fracture and possible internal bleeding.

It is sound medicine to keep all suspected skull fracture cases flat on their backs for 36 to 48 hours. Why? Well, here is where your common sense is helpful.

If a small vessel in the brain is bleeding, it will often plug itself by clotting if the patient is kept in bed. For our blood pressure is lowest when we are in bed and sleeping, or at least lying down relaxed.

And low pressure of course facilitates clotting. So I watched over Judy like a hawk. Curiously enough, she didn't have a fractured bone, nor a bruised spot anywhere on her body except on the back of her head, where she had received an ugly gash, shaped like an inverted letter
"L".

Her intestines, however, were paral-yzed by shock for more than two days, and she vomited even water and other fluids, but the intestines gradually regained their normal tone, and she recovered.

To be hurtled from a car at 50 miles per hour upon the frozen ground is a dangerous event. I have seen several cases where death was immediate or within a few hours.

In this case where emphasis is placed on high speed motors and unique little gadgets like cigarette lighters, it would be well for a little more emphasis on safety measures in automobiles, especially for parents who have youngsters in the back seat.

Consumer surveys of automobile customers would quickly show manufacturers that the reason many families buy a two-door sedan instead of the four-door is the fact they are afraid to leave their children in the back seat of the latter.

Bellhop Convicted Of Assault Before Drowning of Nurse

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y., June 17 (P)—John G. Finn, 23, of Stamford, Conn., was found guilty tonight of assaulting Reva Reznick, 23-year-old New York City nurse who was found drowned the past August 1, just after she had been out with Finn.

A jury of 11 men and one woman returned a verdict after three hours deliberation at the end of a four-day trial in Warren county court.

Finn, accused of striking the vacationing nurse after she resisted his advances in a parked car, was convicted of second degree assault. The maximum penalty is five years in state prison, plus of $1000 fine.

MISS REZNICK'S drowning never was solved.

Judge Howard A. Glassbrook announced he would sentence Finn, Monday. He remanded the one-time bellhop to the custody of Sheriff Edgar J. Baker.

After the verdict, Defense Counsel Daniel H. Prior moved that the verdict be set aside on the ground it was contrary to the weight of evidence and against the law. He also moved for arrest of judgment on the same ground. Both motions were denied by Glassbrook.

On the stand today, Finn quoted District Attorney J. Clarence Herlihy as saying "Jack, I know you did not kill the girl."

"We are investigating the death

"In other words," Prior asked, "the police, the investigators and all others in the case were very nice to you—they gave you a ride up to court and told you you had nothing to worry about. Is that right?" Finn replied, "Yes."

Physician Arrested In Sale of Babies

NEW YORK, June 17 (P)—A 40-year-old Manhattan physician was arrested today charged with selling illegitimate babies for adoption.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said the physician, Dr. Abraham Schonholz, was charged with the sale of two illegitimate babies. One child, Hogan said, was sold for $1700.

Hogan said the physician paid $320 to the two prospective mothers during their pregnancy and promised them another $300 when the final adoption papers were signed.

The charges the doctor faces are misdemeanors.

POLITICAL SCRAP —

has-been, privately favored Bob Taft. Philadelphia's ex-City Chairman Jay Cooke had a small handful of delegates lined up for Harold Stassen. National Committeewoman Mrs. Worthington Scranton was working feverishly for unity behind U. S. Senator Edward Martin — who would be the delegation's favorite-son choice on the first ballot.

BUT THE BIG split between Jim Duff and the Grundy-Owlett group was a fight for state control which had been raging ever since Big Jim Duff sat down in the governor's chair. For years Joe Grundy had run the state through his Pennsylvania Manufacturers association, founded on and dedicated to the principle that what's best for industry is best for the state. Jim Duff had another theory: That capitalism thrives best when it is not just the protector of entrenched wealth, but serves all the people equally.

That was no sudden, theoretician's conclusion. Big Jim had come up through the brawling competition of the wildcat oilfields; his roots were deep in Pennsylvania history. One of his ancestors was a member of William Penn's Council. His grandfather was one of the first to strike oil in western Pennsylvania.

The son of a Presbyterian minister, he went to Princeton (class of '04), studied law at the Universities of Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh. After he had hung out his shingle in Pittsburgh, he scraped up $5,000 for an oil driller's rig and took a lease on some property not five miles from home. With beginner's luck, he struck. Since then he has followed the wildcaters from western Pennsylvania to the Gulf of Mexico. He made a fortune, lost most of it in the 1929 crash, returned to the law practice he had never quite abandoned.

When his old friend Ed Martin asked him to help with the Martin campaign for governor in 1942, Jim Duff had long been neck-deep in Pennsylvania politics. As a delegate to the state convention in 1912, he helped swing Pennsylvania away from William Howard Taft and into Teddy Roosevelt's Bull Moose herd. He was a constant rebel against Joe Grundy's local and state machines; he remains a Bull Moose to this day.

AS ED MARTIN'S attorney general, he banged head-on into Joe Grundy's industrialists. Under Duff's urging, Ed Martin liberalized workmen's compensation and unemployment laws (which Joe Grundy and the P.M.A. have always considered the devil's work), pushed through a bill to curb the discharge of mine silt into the Schuylkill river.

When mine owners protested, redheaded Jim Duff shot back: "Do the job yourselves before I've got to put the iron to you."

Despite such run-ins, when it came time to pick a successor for able Governor Ed Martin, the party's bigwigs settled on Big Jim. After a long, weary afternoon's session in the Hotel Hershey, the bosses could still not decide between four other entries. Finally, in a moment of unguarded weariness, Joe Pew pointed to Duff: "That redheaded s.o.b. ought to be the candidate. I called him about it a few days ago and he told me to go to hell."

LIKE MOST candidates, Duff campaigned on the time-honored issues of conservation, public health and education. But unlike many, Duff meant what he said. He toured 45,000 miles of the state in his automobile and was swept into office by more than 550,000 votes.

Almost at once he started to make good on his promises. He raised state aid to education by $47 million (to $239 million, a whopping 40 percent of the entire budget). He began rebuilding the state's antiquated mental hospitals with an $82 million appropriation. Increased their staff doctors by 30 percent.

He is increasing the state's nursery capacity from five to 60 million trees a year, the yearly output of fish hatcheries from 3½ to 10 million fingerlings.

Cracking down with the state's anti-pollution laws, Duff has already cut the dumping of mine waste by 80 percent in the Schuylkill river basin. The task of dredging out millions of tons of accumulated silt and culm is ready to begin. Similar projects are under way along the Lehigh, the Lackawanna and Susquehanna Rivers.

GO-SLOW GRUNDYMEN, alarmed by such sudden changes, began to eye the state capital with increasing suspicion. When Jim Duff presented his bill, they howled for vengeance.

To raise an extra $133 million in state revenue he increased cigarette taxes from 2c to 4c a pack, slapped new taxes on beer (½ cent) and soft drinks (1c per 12 ounces). Then he prevented repeal of the five-mill tax levied on manufacturers, capital stocks and franchises.

Pennsylvania's manufacturers, led by Mason Owlett, descended on the governor's office in Harrisburg, singly and in angry droves. To all, Big Jim had the same answer: "If you think I'm going to give you a free seat in the grandstand at the same time I'm raising the price of the bleacher seats, you're crazy."

After the tax bills had passed, he remarked to a friend:

"Those bastards are so accustomed to getting their own way they make blueprints for their track and start scheduling trains over it right away. When the trains don't go through they're startled."

Last Winter they were startled more than ever. The moment that his old mentor, Senator Martin, began sniping at the flanks of ERP, Duff rose up before a Temple university audience to throw his full weight behind the Marshall Plan. He jarred the old guard again by warning a P.M.A. dinner that the way to start fighting inflation was by cutting back prices. When he let it be known that he was getting ready to swing his convention support behind a candidate of his own choosing, the regulars reached for their knives.

JUST BEFORE Pennsylvania's presidential primaries last April, they struck. Their campaign took the form of a heavily financed write-in drive for Favorite Son Ed Martin, and a hard-hitting attack on Duff's State Chairman Harvey Taylor, a converted Grundyman who was after renomination as state senator. But that attempt to give Duff his comeuppance ended disastrously.

On election day Ed Martin ran third, behind Robert Stessen and Tom Dewey, as a presidential favorite. Duff's man Taylor squeaked by with a 1100 vote majority. Throughout the state the returns put Duff more securely in the saddle than ever.

But that first defeat only made Grundy, Owlett & Co. more determined than ever to unseat the rebel. Scenting the fight, Dewey-men rushed in to exploit the Grundy-Owlett wrath. It was an incongruous alliance. In the very week that Tom Dewey was urging reciprocal trade extension in Boston, Grundy's Doylestown Daily Intelligencer was editorially burning free-trade heretics at the stake. It was not that Joe Grundy distrusted Tom Dewey less; it was a case of distrusting Jim Duff more.

BY THIS WEEK the battle lines were drawn. Mason Owlett threw in the full weight of the P. M. A. coffers. No Pennsylvania manufacturer went uncalled, no weight of pressure on wavering delegates went unused. Ed Martin had been independent of Joe Grundy when he was governor. But now, through him, Grundy and Owlett cocked the big stick of Federal patronage. A Republican President would have 101,000 Federal jobs to distribute in the state (though many of them were under civil service). U. S. Senator Ed Martin would be the man to parcel them out.

Tom Dewey himself entered the fight. Fortnight ago Philadelphia's Sheriff Austin Mehan, a Duffman who has been given control of the job-heavy state Department of Revenue, got word that the governor of New York wanted to call for a personal interview. When Mehan replied that he would see Dewey only in Duff's company, the interview was called off.

Snorted Duff: "Dewey turns up in this state with the vigorous support of the people who have opposed every progressive step the Republican Party has taken. I assume that since Dewey says publicly he is . . . for these programs, he or his agents must be telling Mason Owlett something else. I am driven to the conclusion that Dewey will promise anybody anything if it will make him President of the U. S. Dewey looks like a man without principle to me."

PLAINLY, JIM Duff was not a man to run from a fight. At 65, he is a friendly, outspoken six-footer with a rugged frame and electric blue-grey eyes that make him look 20 years younger. Since he moved to the Executive Mansion, he has become a familiar sight on Harrisburg streets — window-shopping, chatting with the local newsstand dealer, gassing with the cop on the corner.

His real love is the country and he spends at least half of the year at the governor's Summer home, built by Ed Martin on the military reservation at Indiantown Gap. With his wife and their two dogs Jim Duff patrols the grounds inspecting the new tree plantings which are his pride.

Unpretentious and homespun, Jim Duff has only one ambition: "To get something started in Pennsylvania which they'll be afraid to wash out when I leave; here two years from now."

BUT LONG before he leaves — next week, in fact — he has to deal with the standpaters. Despite the forces arrayed against him, Big Jim is not without weapons of his own. His rear is secure. The Republican organization of western Pennsylvania, led by Banker Richard Mellon, is solidly behind him. The Allegheny county (Pittsburgh) delegates have already announced their intention of following his lead. Above all, he would still be governor of the state for 2½ more years, with 40,000 state jobs at his disposal.

This week Jim Duff moved into the firing line with his rifle cocked. As rumors of deals and counter-deals mounted, Duff summoned a press conference in Harrisburg. Said he flatly: "I have been saying for a solid year that I am not a candidate for anything and I'm not going to be. It has been suggested that I am anxious to be a Cabinet member in the next Administration. I do not expect to be. I will not be — and that is without reservation or qualification."

The day before, in Philadelphia, he had loosed one warning shot toward Ed Martin, who was trying to tie up the delegation in a holding action until he released them himself. Said Duff: "That's the kind of stuff that made the Pennsylvania delegates so ridiculous in 1940 . . . Before they realized what was going on, Willie had the nomination."

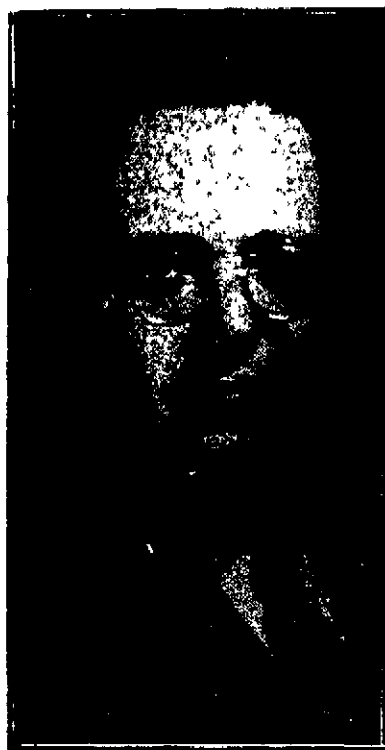

Then Jim Duff fired point-blank at the Grundy strategists. "If they want to get tough," said Big Jim, "I'll show them that I can get tough, too. I'm not looking for a fight but I certainly am not going to sit down and do nothing . . . Let them start something and see the heads fall."

organization which would be needed if the critical moment came.

Duff's strategy was clear but flexible. On the first and second ballots he would probably ride with Ed Martin. The test of his strength would come on the big third and fourth ballots, when Dewey would have to make or break, when Arthur Vandenberg would have to start his drive. At the strategic moment he would either: 1) give Vandenberg bandwagon a powerful shove, or 2) if that looked hopeless, back anyone else to the limit in order to stop Tom Dewey.

Either way, it might well have a decisive effect on the nomination. Either way, it was a plan Grundy, Owlett & Co. would fight to the last ditch. That was why the control of Keystone Pennsylvania was one of the big question marks of the convention.

That was why Jim Duff, along with the heads of the other big delegations — Illinois' Dwight Green, California's Earl Warren, New Jersey's Governor Alfred Driscoll, etc.—would be one of the key men of the convention. In Manhattan this week, Earl Warren made clear his alarm at efforts of reactionary elements to gain control of the party, and announced his determination to fight them.

The real job before these key men, and all the delegates, would be to nominate a man who would steer the Republican Party along a progressive let's-get-things-done course. The U. S. people were already restless, waiting for a new Administration to take over. It was up to the GOP to nominate a man who would give them a psychological lift.

Flood Victims Return To Homes; 46 Dead

PORTLAND, Ore., June 17 (AP)—Some of the 60,000 people driven from their homes by the Pacific Northwest's multi-million dollar flood began returning today.

The death toll stood at 46 persons. The slowly receding rivers, still miles beyond their normal channels, prevented any large-scale return. Several hundred people moved back to South Kelso, Wash., where the dikes had held through weeks of flood.

President of Club Draws $100 Fine On Liquor Charge

John Balogh, 323 Chestnut street, president of the American Hungarian Citizens club, near Douglassville, was fined $100 yesterday in a Reading court for unlawful sale of beer and liquor.

The sentence was handed down by President Judge H. Robert Mays, of Criminal court, after hearing an agent of the State Liquor Control board tell of buying liquor in the unlicensed club.

Originally founded in Pottstown, the club was moved to Berks county when the quota law of Montgomery county prevented procurement of a license, the agent related.

BALOGH, A COAL DEALER with a yard at Adams and Beech streets, told the court that members of the club were hard-working people who patronized the club only on week-ends.

His attorney, Harry W. Matlen, explained the club's purpose was preparation of fellow-countymen for citizenship and that liquor and beer were donated by members who paid voluntarily by dropping money in a box. The State agent, however, testified the liquor and beer were dispensed for cash sales by a bartender or waitress.

The wife of a member, Mrs. Helen Banus, was charged with the same charge as against the president but sentence was suspended on payment of costs.

Judge Mays ordered that the club either change its registered office or return to Montgomery.

Bicycle Reported Stolen From Manalawny Park

Rotary Club Honors Eight Graduates, Hears Educator

Eight Junior High and Senior High school graduates were honored at last night's meeting of the Pottstown Rotary club in the Elks' home.

The girls received corsages and the boys boutonnieres from club President Karl Schumacher, who said that the gold medals would be presented as soon as they arrived.

The eight students were Catherine Elliott and Stanley Stolar, of Pottstown Senior High school; Elaine Princethall and Harrie G. Burdun, of Pottstown Junior High school; Dolores Elaine Bedding and Ralph T. Basile, of West Pottsgrove High school, and Mary Nadine Davidheiser and George Bevan Wily, of North Coventry High school.

Parents of the honored students, and the principals of the four schools, were present for the ceremonies.

Last night's speaker was State Senator Paul Burkholder, of Dover, Del., superintendent of schools for Kent county, Del., and a past district governor of Rotary International.

"Education is something to use to make the community better," declared the educator, as he discussed "Service and Education."

He urged that the highest possible salaries be paid teachers, and the best possible teachers be obtained for the money.

Sixty-five Rotarians were present at last night's session, of which President Schumacher had charge.

with complete accuracy as a clock in a nearby colliery stopped when electric power was dropped.

Eighty miners at the colliery were shaken as the pilot, Capt. George Warner Jr., veered from the anthracite breaker which loomed 265 feet high.

The pilot's wife said she heard coming in over her radio in Chicago her husband's voice saying: "I'm going down." Then there was silence.

Mrs. Warner explained she always listened to her husband's radio chatter as he piloted his plane from coast to coast. "This trip he was making from San Diego, Calif., to New York City."

THE TYPE OF plane which crashed—DC-6's—were ordered out of the air eight months ago after a fatal crash and a near-wreck in the West the past year.

The planes were not permitted back in the air until the past March 5.

In Washington, D. C., last night, the Civil Aeronautics authority announced it was sending three investigators to the scene to study the cause of the mishap. There was no immediate explanation of why the one engine caught fire.

The two local victims were married six years ago. They met while she was a manicurist in an Allentown hotel and he was an official for the Bally mills, with which he had been connected for the past 15 years.

THE FAMILY MOVED to Boyertown four years ago from Paterson, N. J., his birthplace and the home of his father, H. D. Harres, founder of the ribbon mill.

A charter member of the Bally Lions, the Boyertown man also was affiliated with the Eagles and Owls in Paterson, N. J.

that men were not volunteering in sufficient numbers.

Between now and February, the armed forces would be directed to make an intensified recruiting campaign.

SECRETARY MARSHALL held a secret session to discuss the world situation with the House foreign affairs committee. In the House debate, foes of the draft said they understood Marshall had stated that there was no danger of war.

Rep. Eaton (R-NJ) later took the floor to deny that Marshall had made that statement. Eaton said: "In response to an inquiry I addressed to Secretary Marshall this afternoon by telephone, I am authorized to say that in the secretary's judgment 'it is quite clear that recessions from our present line of action for the security of the United States would be most unfortunate and might lead to what we are trying so hard to avoid—that is war.'"

Two Planes Damaged At Model Club Flight

Two crack-ups punctuated a regular weekly flight meeting of the Pottstown Model Airplane club last night at Daniel Boone Homestead.

The first plane that Bruce Roberts, a new member, had ever made crashed heavily during its maiden flight and broke the fuselage in two.

And just after that, a large model, owned by Edward W. Jameson, club president, who had advised Roberts not to fly his model, zoomed into a barbed wire fence and sheared off eight inches of wing tip.

Six members flew their planes last night.

The expected price hike will mean an increase of an additional half cent to the consumer, bringing the price to 22 cents.

Women's Services Heads Confer With Forrestal

Gathered at the Pentagon building in Washington, directors of women's services in the Army, Navy and Air Force prepare for a conference with Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal. They discussed the new law which, for the first time in history, makes women outside the medical services part of the regular U. S. forces. They are (left to right): Col. Geraldine P. May, first director of the Women in the Air Force (WAAF); Col. Mary A. Hallaren, director of the Women's Army Corps (WAC); Secretary Forrestal; Capt. Joy Bright Hancock, USNR, director of Women Accepted for Voluntary Emergency Service (WAVES); and Maj. Julia E. Hamblet, USMCWR, director of the Marine Corps Women.

Mechanical 'Heart' Aids in Operations

STOCKHOLM, June 17 (AP)—With the help of an artificial lung and an artificial heart a young Swedish surgeon has been able to operate in the hearts of dogs. His method may open a new way to operate also inside human hearts. The surgeon is Dr. Viking Björck, an assistant to one of the world's leading heart surgeons, Prof. Clarence Crafoord in Stockholm.

Bodily organs with the exception of the brain can be emptied of blood for half an hour without injury. The brain, however, cannot lack blood for more than a few minutes at a stretch. If an operation is to be performed inside the heart the blood-circulation must be stopped. But at the same time the brain must be supplied with fresh blood continuously. Dr. Björck takes blood from an upper vein, oxygenates it in an apparatus with rotating disks, and then pumps it back into an artery leading to the brain. There were many difficulties, notably to prevent mechanical damage to the delicate red blood corpuscles.

For up to 33 minutes Dr. Björck has succeeded in maintaining artificial blood-circulation in the brain of a dog. The apparatus will be perfected. Two of them can be used, one for the upper part of the body, the other for the lower part, which will give the surgeon more time to operate inside the pumping but bloodless heart.

RED PLOT DENIED

BOGOTA, Colombia, June 17 (AP)—Foreign Minister Eduardo Zuleta Angel said today stories about a reported criminal investigation here by British police were "press fabrications." He also denied reports of an alleged uncovering of a Communist plot.

CRASH SCENE —

up as the plane seemed to be coming down in a glide and then it struck the high tension wire. It was terrible."

There were two telephone repairmen working on a nearby hillside. One, William Davis, a former air corps man, said he knew something was wrong when he saw that big plane bank at a 45 degree angle.

A moment later we saw black smoke rising a few miles away," Davis said.

CAPT. EARL BACH, 32-year-old United Airlines pilot, flew over the scene several minutes after the crash and made the first official report of the tragedy.

Over his radio he tersely informed LaGuardia field in New York: "I've sighted Flight 624, it looks demolished."

Bach, a veteran of 20-years flying from West Chester, Ill., said: "The plane was demolished on a hillside. Nearby woods were on fire. You could see a clearing nearby. Smoke made it hard to distinguish things from the air but there appeared to be no survivors."

Oddly enough the passengers in Bach's plane never knew there had been a crash.

"WE KEPT a wing in their view. The few who noticed a disturbance thought it was just another fire."

A tattered steamer robe atop a burning tree fluttered as a bleak omen of the destruction.

Underneath, workers poked awkwardly into the debris on the side of a coal mountain in a search for the bodies.

"There doesn't seem to be a single body intact," said John Lagaz, a sweating constable. He stepped gingerly to avoid pieces of flesh and bone strewn over the landscape.

A tooth lay starkly alone on a charred log. There was a fur neck-piece which escaped destruction. A sponge rubber seat was still smoking.

And otherwise, there was desolation over the flame-leveled area 75 yards square.

Badwater in Death Valley (about 830 feet below sea level) is the lowest land in the western hemisphere.

Withdraws Suit

Mrs. Christine Putman Johnson (above) withdrew her paternity suit against James E. Folsom, governor of Alabama, yesterday in Cullman, Ala., Circuit court. She now denies her charge that they lived together as man and wife.

Final Attempt Made To Pass Housing Bill

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The Republican-dominated Congress made a final attempt today to agree on a housing bill at this session.

The House banking committee approved, 15 to 11, a measure stripped of public housing and slum clearance provisions.

But debate on the draft and other questions kept the housing bill from coming up for a vote right away.

And there was no certainty that the Senate would accept the House bill in any event.

The Senate already has passed the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill, which among other things would let the government pay for some slum clearance projects and finance 500,000 low-rent homes, to be owned by public agencies.

The House rules committee refused yesterday to let a similar measure go before the House.

MOTORISTS SHIFT —

he tried to avoid the crash but could get over no further, he explained.

HE RELATED THAT the impact of the glancing collision knocked him unconscious. The car went uncontrolled into a mail box cataclysm, it 50 feet through the air and then plunged into a ten-inch-thick tree which it uprooted. The car then turned over and righted itself on its wheels. Goggins suffered a fractured skull.

Numerous witnesses, arrivals at the scene soon after the accident, were called by the defense.

Elmer G. Wertz, Reading, said he picked up a piece of one of the cars after the wreck and saw tire marks, presumably those of Goggins' car, along the south curb.

Concluding the State's case, Ruth declared that Goggins, accompanied by a male friend, had had a drink of whiskey in a club at 3 a.m. and later had eaten at a diner with his wife and niece before the wreck.

Mouse deer, often only 12 or 15 inches high, are believed to be the smallest hoofed animals in the world.

Girl Insists She Have Pedigree for Her Beau

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 17 (AP)—Pedigreed partners is a "must" for one young girl in the northern part of Sweden. A district police superintendent got this letter from the girl:

"We have been going steady for some time now. Before I get to know my friend better, I hope you can tell me about his past, his family and what kind of a man he is. In other words—I want his pedigree."

Bridge Tolls Shocking, But a Remedy Is Found

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., June 17 (AP)—It was a shocking experience every time tolls were paid at the Beardstown bridge.

City Electrician Arthur Zeick discovered that cars crossing the asphalt-covered board floor of the bridge built up a supply of static electricity which caused a shock every time customers handed the bridge tender a coin. A "grounder" made from a long-pronged sweeper-type rake has solved the problem.

Personalities in the News

PRESIDENT TRUMAN, who has been veto-happy with the Congress, has been having his troubles lately.

The House and Senate are repeatedly overriding his vetoes which caused Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) to remark:

"The President has been overridden by Congress so many times he is now developing saddle sores."

A year ago, a truck owned by the Saginaw Transfer company smashed into his house.

Just a few nights ago, Milch heard a noise that disturbed him—it was a familiar sound.

He rushed from his room to find another truck had damaged his porch.

It was owned by the Saginaw Transfer company.

GOVERNORS CHILDREN, especially those whose fathers have announced that they are candidates for the GOP presidential nomination, are not much for politics.

Dorothy Warren, 17-year-old daughter of Gov. Earl Warren of Calif., and Thomas E. Dewey, Jr., 15-year-old son of the New York governor, were talking at a governors conference in New Hampshire.

A reporter, passing by, inquired as to whom they thought would win the nomination.

Both replied simultaneously: "We don't talk politics."

PENNSYLVANIANS have a reputation for being the biggest beer drinkers in the United States but Steel workers in London, England, take beer to work with them and drink about eight pints a day.

A recent dispatch from the British capital revealed that the supply of beer was growing low and sent this message:

"Send us more beer or steel output will fall."

IN A RECENT debate on the Bulwinkle bill in the Senate, Senator Reed (R-Kans.) said that the chief critics of the measure are "screwballs from the Department of Justice anti-trust division."

Senator McFarland (D-Ariz.) leaped to his feet and cried: "I don't like to see able attorneys called screwballs on the floor of the Senate just because they don't happen to agree with the Senator from Kansas."

Reed retorted, "If those boys aren't screwballs, then I can't recognize screwballs."

DR. LEON DUFOURMONT, noted French doctor, says that some day, the world won't have to look at homely faces.

At least, nobody will have to keep the ugly face he happened to be born with if he doesn't want to.

Dr. Dufourmont has invented a razor-plane which permits the face to be "planed" like a carpenter planes wood. And it leaves the cells underneath alive.

The process of making another Van Johnson out of any ugly duckling requires only two hours—and an unspecified amount of cash.

WARREN, passing by, inquired as to whom they thought would win the nomination.

Both replied simultaneously: "We don't talk politics."

As Koons slowed for a turn into a garage, the front of the Bender car collided with the rear of his auto.

Both drivers reported the accident to police at borough hall.

Drivers Escape Unhurt In Two-Car Collision

Two cars were damaged in an auto mishap yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock on High street near Moser road.

Richard Bender, 422 Lincoln avenue, was driving east on the highway, behind a car driven by Clarence Koons, 102 South Rohland street.

As Koons slowed for a turn into a garage, the front of the Bender car collided with the rear of his auto.

Both drivers reported the accident to police at borough hall.

GEORGE F. ADDES, former UAW-CIO secretary-treasurer before the regime of Walter Reuther came into power, finds that he misses the $7500 a year he was pulling down.

Recently, the former Auto Workers executive, filed an unemployment compensation request in Detroit.

If he is accepted, the $20 a week he will get will certainly seem a big drop from his former lucrative salary.

RUSSELL ADAMS was up for sentencing in a Pittsburgh court on holdup charges when he told the court:

"I robbed the man because I needed $10 to pay court costs I owed on a previous case."

Records proved his statement correct. He owed the money on a larceny charge the past year.

Lincoln Avenue Man Arrested After Quarrel

Howard Gelsinger, 62, of 338 Lincoln avenue, was arrested last night at 5:30 o'clock at his home on an assault and battery warrant sworn out by Earl Moyer, of the same address.

He was released for a hearing tonight at 7:30 o'clock before Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus, of the Seventh ward.

The incident happened three days ago after a quarrel between the pair at their home.

Every Camp Claims Victory as GOP Convention Nears

Philadelphia Municipal auditorium, site of national party conclave, on west side of Schuylkill river.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17 (AP)—Convention-conscious Philadelphia heard Harold E. Stassen roar into town today behind a horn-blowing motorcade.

The sandy-haired Minnesotan precipitated an immediate controversy over who would receive the Republican presidential nomination and on what ballot.

He told an early morning news conference that he would be third man on the first ballot but repeated he would win by the ninth.

Camps of other major contenders immediately challenged this. Supporters of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey predicted nomination of the New Yorker on an "early ballot."

BACKERS OF Senator Robert A. Taft claimed that while the Ohioan and Dewey would be about equal on the first ballot, Taft would show greater "reserve strength" and would go on to victory on or before the seventh roll call.

Stassen arrived early with his wife and two children and drove to his hotel between a police escort and a noisy caravan that disturbed late sleepers. Within an hour he was receiving reporters.

"I am here to lead the liberal and younger forces of the Republican party in a fight to win," he said. "I expect to be in third place on the first ballot and in first place on the last."

Asked how he looks on the possible candidacy of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, Stassen replied:

"I consider Senator Vandenberg to be one of the outstanding statesmen of the Republican party. I make no attempt to anticipate what his moves will be in this convention."

CLOSE ASSOCIATES of Vandenberg, who has said he is not a candidate, reported that unless he changes his mind the senator will let the convention balloting take its course without any statement from him.

Herbert Brownell, one of Dewey's managers, took exception to Stassen's forecast of victory on the ninth ballot.

Brownell told a news conference it is "not an impossibility" that a nomination will be decided before the convention meets.

He said that since Dewey headquarters were opened here the past Monday, the New York governor is "in a stronger position" than he has been previously.

It is his information, Brownell said, that New York gamblers now are betting 5 to 4 on Dewey against the field.

Senate-House Unit Okays Proposal to Admit 205,000 DP's

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Senate-House conferees agreed tonight on a compromise bill to let 205,000 homeless Europeans into this country during the next two years.

The bill, which now goes back to both houses for final action, also would allow up to 15,000 aliens now visiting in this country to remain as permanent residents.

Two of the seven house conferees and two of the five Senators refused to approve the compromise, which eases some of the restrictions voted earlier by the Senate but retains others.

As approved by a majority of the conferees, the bill provides for the entry of 200,000 "eligible" displaced persons, 2000 persons who fled Czechoslovakia after the Communists took over, and 3000 orphans under 16.

THEY KEPT THE Senate provision that "eligible" DP's are those who entered German or Austrian occupation zones before Dec. 22, 1945.

Rep. Celler (D-NY), one of the conferees, said this requirement "completely scuttles" the bill because it "removes from eligibility most of the displaced Jews." Many Jews arrived in the occupation zones early in 1945.

Celler and Rep. Boggs (R-Del) were the House members who refused to sign the report.

The compromise also provides that at least 40 percent of the 200,000 shall come from areas which have been annexed by a foreign country. In practice, this means from Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia and Eastern Poland.

THE SENATE HAD voted that half the DP's admitted must come from those areas. Critics objected that this would discriminate against Catholics since Latvia and the other areas covered are almost entirely Protestant.

Another provision approved by the conferees is that 30 percent of the immigrants must be farm workers in this country. The Senate had put the number of these immigrants at 50 percent. Objectors said this would bar many Jews since few Jewish DP's have farm experience.

The compromise bill further gives priority to household, construction and clothing workers; blood relatives of U. S. citizens or lawfully admitted aliens including nephews and nieces; and DP's who bore arms in World War II against the enemies of the United States.

RED-CONTROLLED FRENCH UNIONS CALL STRIKE

One-Hour Walkout
Called in Sympathy
For Rubber Employees

PARIS, June 17 (AP)—The powerful, Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGT) today called a one-hour general strike throughout France for Saturday in sympathy with striking workers in Clermont-Ferrand.

Token strikes, most of them only a half-hour or an hour long, continued to break out throughout France today as sympathy gestures toward the Clermont-Ferrand rubber employees.

Workers in many plants indirectly joined in the movement by starting their "vacations." In France many establishments close down and all employees take their vacations at the same time.

BUT THERE WERE no reports of violence throughout the day and the conference table appeared to be replacing street fights in France's troubled labor situation.

In Paris, mobile guardsmen and police were posted around the chamber of deputies as many delegations of workers called on deputies. The workers protested against police activities during the rioting at Clermont-Ferrand, in Central France, Tuesday night when 400 persons were injured.

Associated Press dispatches from Clermont-Ferrand, where the trouble began, said most rail and telephone facilities were still cut as local officials negotiated with labor and management to end the strike.

The Associated Press was forced to send its dispatches from the city by wirephoto because of a telephone tie-up.

At Clermont-Ferrand union and management officials worked to iron out their differences, begun as a request for wage increases.

The two-day strike has resulted in the arrest of some 100 persons.

Senale Clears Bill For Expanded Navy

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The Senate today completed Congressional action on a $3,749,059,250 bill to maintain and expand the Navy and Marines during the next year.

It accepted by voice vote and sent to President Truman for expected approval a compromise annual Navy appropriation passed earlier today by the House.

The Navy had asked $3,927,738,700 for the year. The House first cut this by $250,000,000, and the Senate restored $125,000,000. The final compromise is midway between the Senate-House differences.

By use of wartime reserves and previous appropriations, the Navy will have more than $5,000,000,000 to spend in the next 12 months.

The big money bill is one of the "must" measures listed for approval before Congress quits.

Recaptured

FRITZ KUHN

Ex-Bund Head Is Recaptured by German Police

MUNICH, June 17 (AP) — Fritz Kuhn, deported German-American bund chief, was recaptured by German police today while trying to get a license to operate a chemist's laboratory, police disclosed today.

"If you hadn't worked for a guy like Hitler you wouldn't be here today," he was told by Munich Police President Franz Pitzer.

"Who would have known that it would end like this," Kuhn replied.

Kuhn was seized two days ago in the French zone town of Bernkastel near Trier four and a half months after he escaped from Dachau internment camp where he was awaiting trial before a German de-Nazification court.

HE FACES ten-years at hard labor, the sentence the court handed down in his absence on April 20.

Kuhn said today he considered the ten-year sentence as a "major Nazi offender" was unfair and that he intended to appeal it.

How Kuhn escaped has never been officially explained, although there was an investigation, and the camp director, Anton Zirngibl, was fired.

Kuhn told reporters, "the door was open and so I went through."

He said his romance with blonde waitress Frau Hedwig Munz, employee of a U. S. Army snack bar, was "all finished."

President Truman Raps Congress For Failure to Enact Housing Law

A BOARD TRUMAN TRAIN EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—President Truman tonight accused the Republican leadership of restricting the House to action on only "emasculated housing legislation."

The President made his accusation at Indianapolis in the course of a speech to an audience drawn up around his private car.

"It will be tragic if the comprehensive housing legislation which has been so long considered and which has come to the verge of final passage should be blocked by parliamentary devices which thwart the democratic process," he said.

"But if this is to be the case, the American people should know just how it was done and by whom," he added.

THE PRESIDENT SAID: "The Republican leadership has thus decreed that the House shall vote only upon the emasculated Housing legislation which the Republican leadership wants, and that it shall never be allowed to vote upon the kind of Housing legislation which the people of this country need and want."

Earlier, in a speech at East St. Louis, Ill., the President snapped back at Congress for overriding his vetoes, and threatened new ones and accused legislators of "hunting for a boom and a bust."

Police Inspector Leo Troutman estimated the audience in Indianapolis at 4500.

THE PRESIDENT'S statement was distributed to newsmen aboard his special train as it pulled into the Indianapolis station at about 8:12 p.m. (Pottstown Time). He read the statement to the crowd below the railroad viaduct and added that the rules committee "bottled" up the long range housing bill after the House banking committee with the aid of "three forward-looking Republicans" reported it out.

He said he hoped the people "will profit by the lesson" they learned by staying away from the polls in 1946 when the present Congress was elected.

Angry Congress Overrides Third Veto in Week, Promises More

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—An angry Congress today overrode the third Presidential veto in four days and leaders warned that if any more vetoes come from the White House they will be overridden, too.

No others are in sight, but the triple play is enough to make history. Never have three major bills been voted into law over a president's "I forbid" in a single week.

By a vote of 297 to 102 today the House joined the Senate which yesterday overrode Mr. Truman's rejection of the Bulwinkle bill. This measure lets railroads make rate agreements, under certain circumstances, without fear of the anti-trust laws.

Sixty nine Democrats joined 228 Republicans today to pile up the 297 total—31 more than the two-thirds majority needed to override. Four Republicans sided with 96 Democrats and two American labor party members in a futile effort to back up the President.

SOME SAY THE three strike-outs in a row stemmed from the President's recent criticism of Congress.

On his campaign swing through the west he called the present Congress the worst in history—or at least the second worst.

Mr. Truman has vetoed 137 bills since he became President, and 131 of his vetoes have been upheld.

He vetoed 76 bills during the 79th (1945-46) Congress, and all stuck. The first session of the GOP-controlled 80th Congress (1947) upheld 31 and overrode only one, the Taft-Hartley act.

The current session of Congress has received 29 vetoes, and has overridden five. Those overturned in addition to the three this week were on the income tax cut and on exempting news vendors from social security.

Mr. Truman had rejected the Bulwinkle bill, which became law today despite his veto, because he said it is "inconsistent" with a "vigorous anti-monopoly program."

Mundt-Nixon Bill Is Called Unwise By Attorney Clark

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark has advised the Senate that the Mundt-Nixon bill to curb Communists is unwise and of doubtful constitutionality, it was announced today. Meanwhile there arose new congressional warnings that Russia wants to move the capital from Washington to Moscow.

Clark advised the Senate not to pass the bill. He said it would drive Communists underground and make doubly difficult the Justice department's job of law enforcement.

The congressional warnings on Communism came in a booklet published by the House committee on un-American activities. It said U. S. Communists are engaged in a "cold war treason."

The Mundt-Nixon bill already has passed the House and is now being studied by the Senate judiciary committee.

It requires Communists and Communist-front organizations to register. Failure to do so would be punished by $10,000 fine and 10 years in prison.

But Attorney General Clark, in a letter to Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the judiciary committee, said the bill could be unconstitutional.

MOSHE SHER TOK

Jews Willing to Talk Peace for Palestine

TEL AVIV, Israel, June 17 (AP)—Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok said today Israel would send "Jewish experts" to Rhodes to consult with Count Folke Bernadotte.

Shertok emphasized, at a meeting with Israel's provisional state council, that the preliminary talks at Rhodes would not constitute a full-scale peace conference.

Bernadotte, the United Nations Palestine mediator, arrived from Cairo today and talked with Shertok and Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion.

U. N. DISPATCHES 50-MAN FORCE TO PALESTINE

Group to Be at Disposal
Of Count Bernadotte; Lie
Seeks N. Y. Police Unit

LAKE SUCCESS, June 17 (AP) — The United Nations disclosed today 50 members of its headquarters security force are being sent to Palestine for emergency duty.

This represents the first time a uniformed U. N. force of any kind has been assigned to assist in the world organization's peace projects abroad.

While the 50-man detachment is not an international military force in the strict sense of the term, it does constitute at least a step toward a world police force.

Informed quarters said Secretary-General Trygve Lie might send other contingents to join this group.

HE WAS UNDERSTOOD to have consulted Mayor William O'Dwyer last night about the possibility of borrowing a small force of New York police officers. A U. N. official said this possibility had not yet been dropped.

The guards will be flown to Cairo Saturday by chartered plane and will be placed under orders of Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. Palestine mediator. It was an urgent request from Bernadotte that led to Lie's decision on the guards.

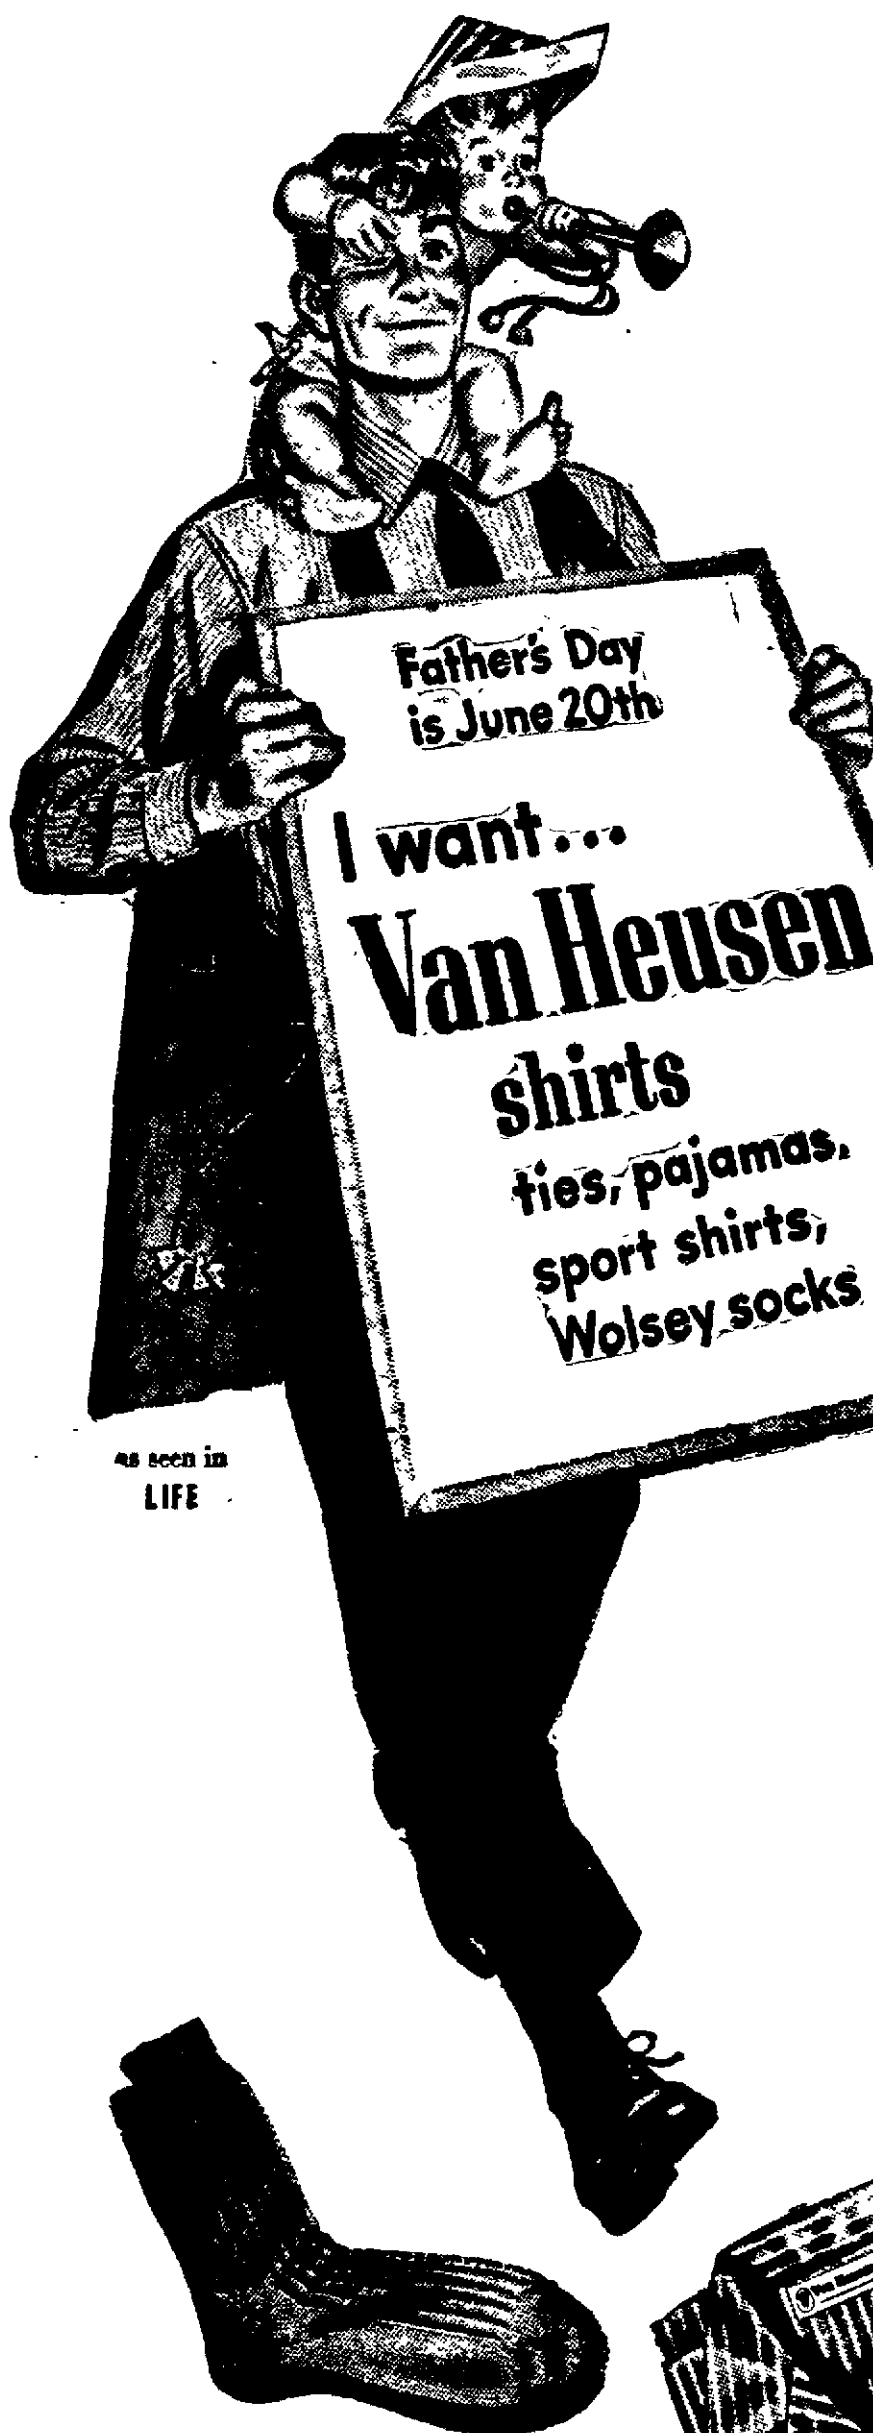

Meanwhile, Cairo dispatches said there were reports Count Bernadotte might ask for a prolongation of the four-week truce.

Oaks Plant Workers Favor Strike Call

Employees of the B. F. Goodrich plant, Oaks, have gone on record with the Goodrich company and have voted in favor of giving CIO Rubber Union officials authority to call a strike, according to George R. Bass, union president, yesterday.

Several Twin-Borough workers are employed at the plant. Bass reported 7554 of the company's 13,500 union members took part in the vote Wednesday. No announcement was made of the breakdown in votes.

Bass did not indicate whether or not a strike would be called, but said a walkout would not start before July 12, the expiration of a 60-day "cooling off" period.

IT WAS SAID THE company offered an eight-cent hourly boost and a one-year contract freezing wages and fringe issues for the duration of the pact. The union, it was reported, has offered to settle for 15 cents, or 11 cents and a contract containing an escalator clause adjusting wages on a cost-of-living basis.

Firestone and Tire and Rubber company settled with the union the past Saturday for an 11-cent increase, in what was expected to set a pattern for the rubber industry.

Of the Jews now in Palestine, approximately 40 per cent came there originally from Poland.

Marine Mascot Dies; Held in Prison Camp

SAN DIEGO, June 17 (AP)—Soochow is dead of old age. That is sad news for the men of the old Fourth Marine Regiment who kept the dog alive through three years in Japanese prison camps.

The dog was picked up along Soochow creek as a pup when the regiment was stationed in Shanghai. That was in 1937. Adopted by the regiment, he left with it when it went to the Philippines in 1941. After the fall of Corregidor, the mascot went with some of the men to the Biladad prison camp and remained there until liberation in 1945. Since then he has been at the Marine Corps Recruit depot in San Diego.

Soochow had the rank of sergeant and held the specification serial number 037, or "meat cutter." He qualified as a first class swimmer. Two offenses were listed against him in his service record. Once he went AWOL and again he was charged keeping company with a female of questionable character.

Court Battle Rages Over Custody of Boy Evangelist, 13

INDIANAPOLIS, June 17 (AP) — There was drama in the juvenile courtroom today at the hearing on the custody of "Little David" Walker, 13-year-old boy evangelist. As the youthful preacher, who tells of once having been "transported to heaven for five hours," testified that his father, Jack Walker, had whipped him with a belt, the youngster's mother let loose an ear-piercing shriek. She fell in a faint on the courtroom floor.

"Little David" remained in the witness chair, apparently unmoved by the scene.

The mother, Mrs. Gertrude Walker of Chicago, was treated by a doctor from a nearby office building. Then the hearing was resumed on the question of whether the boy preacher should be taken from the guardianship of James M. Dawson, Indianapolis attorney, and restored to the custody of the parents. They charge their son has been "neglected" under the guardianship arrangement.

THE BOY AVOIDED looking at his mother as he resumed his testimony.

He told the court his father had beaten him "numerous times" but he replied "of course" when asked: "David, do you love your father?" Mrs. Walker, in testimony yesterday, had told of finding her son wearing dirty underwear and outer garments but the son insisted today he had never gone about unclean.

Another witness today was the Rev. Nantaniel A. Urshan, associate of the Rev. Raymond G. Hoekstra, pastor of the Calvary Tabernacle in Indianapolis. With Hoekstra as his manager "Little David" had been conducting evangelistic meetings throughout the United States and Canada.

The Rev. Mr. Urshan testified that the young preacher's father showed an interest in the financial returns from these meetings.

He quoted Walker as saying on one occasion: "We don't want any more of these $500 evenings. If Hoekstra can't do better he'll have to go."

Committee Still at Odds On Foreign Aid Spending

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — A Senate-House conference committee will try again tomorrow for agreement on funds for the foreign aid program. It made little progress in a four-hour meeting today.

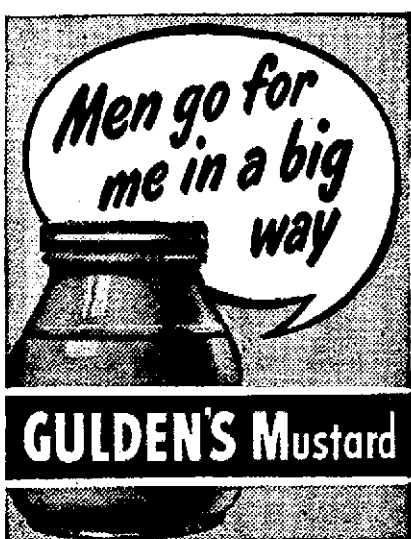

The dispute centers on how much money shall be spent in how much time.

The House voted to spread the spending over 15 months instead of 12. In effect it lopped off about $1,433,000,000 from the $6,533,710,228 asked by the administration.

The Senate put the program back on a 12-month basis, restoring around $1,175,000,000 of the funds cut by the House.

A conference committee is trying to adjust the bills so that Congress can approve a compromise before adjourning.

Senate Fight Develops Over Special Support For Tobacco in Long-Range Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — Harsh words flew today as the Senate amended a long-range farm bill to give tobacco a special price support position.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) trying to pilot the measure through to passage, fought the amendment and accused Democratic senators of trying to kill the whole bill. He singled out several of the Democrats by name.

Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky, who supported the tobacco clause, countercharged that Aiken was trying to "inject politics" into the situation. And Senator Holland (D-Fla.), whose pro-tobacco vote was criticized by Aiken, took the floor to say: "I resent with all my being his remarks."

The amendment was adopted by the leaf-thin margin of 41 to 40. Eight Republicans and 33 Democrats voted for it; 34 Republicans and six Democrats against.

SPONSORED BY Senator Cooper (R-Ky.), the amendment would guarantee tobacco growers 90 percent of parity for their crop. Aiken's bill would have authorized government support of tobacco prices on a sliding scale, ranging from 60 to 90 percent of parity.

(Parity is a price level calculated to be equally fair to producers and consumers. It changes from month to month, with the fluctuating prices of the things the farmers buy.)

The bill under consideration would revise the crop price relationship to include the prices of the most recent 10 years, and provide a sliding scale of government price supports averaging about 75 percent of parity for six basic crops—wheat, corn, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco.

co. All except cotton now are supported at 90 percent of parity. Cotton rates 92½ percent.

Late in the afternoon, Senator Russell (D-Ga.) called up a proposed substitute bill. He coupled the action with an attack on the long-range measure which, he said, is "a short-sighted program because it throws us back to before the war years."

Russell's substitute is similar to—although not identical with—a bill approved by the House the past week to extend the present farm price support laws for 18 months.

National Defense Boosted by Guard, Officer Declares

Lt. Col. Carl Lentz, of the National Guard, 51st Anti-Aircraft brigade, Reading, addressed members of the Lions club of Boyertown last night on the place of the National Guard in national defense.

An officer in a gun battalion in Reading, Col. Lentz explained how the efficiency of fighting men has increased since 1941 because of the use of such things as proximity fuses and radar.

The proximity fuse, he explained, is one which contains a tiny radio in its head and which seeks out its target. It will not detonate until it is within 120 feet of the target, Col. Lentz stated. Radar, he added, is accurate to within five to six yards.

THE OFFICER SAID he believed passage of the draft act would speed up enlistment of men in the National Guard.

Col. Lentz urged employers to grant liberal military leave to their employees so that the nation's defenses might be strengthened. He was introduced by Henry Stetler, program chairman for the meeting. Col. Lentz substituted for Col. Donald McLean, who was called out of the state on business yesterday. President Rudolf Abrams presided.

The weight of the armour worn in the middle ages was as much as 100 pounds.

Man of the hour!

Father's Day is June 20th... make all 24 hours of his day gleeful. How? Simple! Give him clothes he likes to wear. If he likes to fish or play golf, he'll like sportswear cut for action. If he likes to keep up appearances, give him half-a-dozen pairs of socks, or a wardrobe of ties. And for the lounge-on-the-lawn and-talk type of Pater, Whitner's has comfortable sportswear that'll pamper Papa perfectly.

Berlin Newspapers Charge Reds Still Dismantling Plants

BERLIN, June 17 (AP)—Official German language newspapers of both the American and British military governments say the Soviet is continuing to dismantle German factories in the Russian zone despite highly publicized official statements that the program had ended.

Workers thus left without jobs are being sent as forced labor to the uranium mines of Saxony or to Russia, the newspapers "Neue Zeitung" and "Die Welt" said.

"The end result of such a policy (of dismantlement) can only be the complete de-industrialization of the Soviet zone," "Die Welt" continued. "The resultant lowering of living standards will create an economic desert."

Both newspapers listed ten Soviet-owned factories and three plants already scheduled as newly scheduled for dismantling. They include machine, typewriter, synthetic fuel, film, cable and motor works.

"Neue Zeitung" and "Die Welt," which frequently have official Anglo-American information made available to them, gave this picture of factory dismantling and working conditions in the Saxony mines of the Soviet zone.

RUSSIAN COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF Marshal Vasily Sokolovsky assured the head of the Soviet zone's German central administration dismantlings would end May 1, 1946. The following October, however, factories still were being torn down for shipment to the Soviet Union.

On Jan. 16, 1947, the "Taegliche Rundschau," official organ of the Soviet military administration, again announced "the final end of dismantling." Seven soft coal mines were exempted.

Dismantlings which continued in the following months were described by the official Soviet news bureau as the "last phase" of the program.

However, a new series of "partial" dismantlings started on six factories this Spring. Included were the artificial rubber (Buna) plant in Schkopau and former Siemens factories at Arnstadt and Gera manufacturing electrical apparatus.

"The dismantling will reduce the capacity of these plants by 60 percent," "Die Welt" said.

BOTH "DIE WELT" and "Neue Zeitung" said a large staff of Russian engineers had arrived to do the new job.

The majority of the factories now being dismantled originally were incorporated into a giant Soviet owned trust of more than 100 Eastern zone plants. Russians said then the plants were being left in Germany to work at full capacity for reparations which the Russians are taking out of current production.

As a result of dismantlings, expropriations and reduced plant capacities, the newspapers pointed out unemployment was growing in Eastern Germany.

The unemployed, however, are being sent by zonal labor offices as forced labor into Saxony's mining area where the Soviet reportedly is exploiting the mines for pitchblende, a source of uranium.

"With the increase of forced labor, work in the mines is being pressed forward day and night with the greatest of speed," "Die Welt" said.

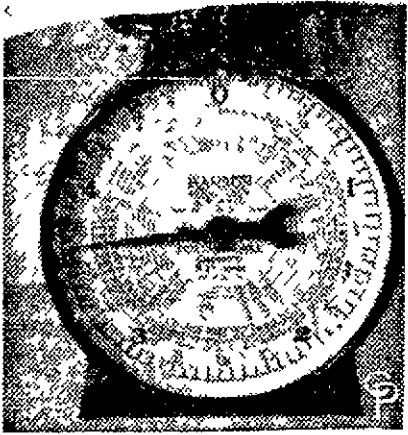

"MINERS HAVE AN order systematically to examine all old shafts in the Erz (ore) mountains for pitchblende deposits. Special workers have been directed to send samples after each blasting to the Soviet uranium institute in Freiberg."

The area being worked by a Soviet company called "S. A. G. Vismuth" with a capital of 50 million rubles centers around the Saxony towns of Annaberg, Marienberg, Freital, Freiberg and Brandebisdorf.

The mines are under the command of a Soviet officer. Each miner is given a Russian identification card.

To prevent flight of forced laborers, railway stations in the immediate area have been instructed not to sell miners railway tickets without special authorization. Railway police have orders to check all travelers.

Conference Proposes Unity for Lutherans

BIRMINGHAM, June 17 (AP)—The Eastern district convention of the American Lutheran church today urged establishment of an immediate organic union of all bodies now federated in the American Lutheran conference.

The action was taken at the closing session of the district's four-day meeting. The district embraces Ohio, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina and the District of Columbia.

In another resolution, the district convention also asked the parent body of the church to continue discussions with the United Lutheran Church of America looking toward eventual union with that group.

Mayor Orders Probe Of Milk Price Structure

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer today announced he had ordered an investigation of "pricing practices" in connection with the distribution of milk in New York City.

He said the purpose was to determine "the prices paid for fluid milk by distributors and the prices at which such milk has been sold both at wholesale and at retail."

Another purpose, he said, is to determine "whether there is any collusion between the distributing companies in fixing wholesale and retail prices of fluid milk in the city of New York."

Missionary Society Hears Lorin Ellis Discuss Evangelism

Defining missionarism as the proclamation of the gospel to the universe according to the command of Christ, Mr. Lorin Ellis addressed members of the Missionary society of the Salem Evangelical United Brethren church last night when they met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Knause, South Pottstown.

He continued by tracing the motives of missionary work through the ages and giving the essential qualifications of the missionaries of the present day, stating that they must first have the spirit of obedience, the spirit of love and the power of the Holy Spirit.

He named the five motives impelling the desire to be a missionary as follows: the exaltation of Christ, the salvation of souls, the uplift of man, the elevation of the church, and the extension of the Kingdom of God.

During the business session three new members were received, including Mrs. Russell Wendling and the Rev. and Mrs. Charles V. Kachel. Plans were made to hold a picnic meeting July 22 at Ringing Rocks park with Mrs. Walter Price, Mrs. Esther Glaes and Mrs. Ralph Knause the committee in charge.

South Coventry PTA Men Lose Ball Game to Sons

When the fathers of the South Coventry Parent Teacher association met their sons on the baseball diamond last night, they were forced to hang their heads as their sons marched off the field victorious with the score 15-14.

Following the game, a cold picnic supper was held in the school cafeteria with 65 in attendance. After partaking of food, the group retired to the auditorium where the business meeting was held, with Mr. G. Bryce Manthorne, president in charge.

Plans were discussed for a festival and a cake and pie sale to be held in the near future. A statement appearing in the recent school board report to the effect that hot lunches for the school children during the coming year would be reduced was declared an error. The price will remain the same as last year.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

BY SHEPARD BARCLAY

A Show of Strength

Making a show of strength in a certain close situation. If you have a good suit fit with your partner and virtually nothing else, your support of his bid may create a barrier against which your opponents cannot untrack themselves. If you apply this principle, sparingly and delicately in carefully chosen spots, it can pay very worthwhile dividends, not only in rubber bridge, but also in match-point duplicate games—in fact, especially in the latter.

North at table 1 was one of those exponents of the proved one-over-one principle who likes to say that the weakest hand he will bid, except opposite a double or its equivalent, is one giving him a chance to say 1-Diamond over 1-Club. He applied that soundly when his partner's bid reached him, in the same way as did North at the other table. But when the first North got his next chance, over his partner's 1-Heart, he failed to employ another important principle. His own hand being so ideally fitted to hearts, as against any other declaration South might call, was also so weak in general that action was demanded of him. A raise to 2-Hearts in this spot might have been followed by South reaching to three, or even four, but if so no very great damage could have occurred, and in a not too rare circumstance the contract thus reached might have been makeable.

Tomorrow's Problem

North at the other table realized the main reason for that raise to erect a barrier against probably strong opponents. It happened that the 2-Spades made three, worth 140 points, whereas the 2-Hearts bid was set only one trick, worth just 50.

After winning the spade 3 lead with the A, what suit should East return, and why?

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

Freed of Draft Charge, Man Faces Court Again

PITTSBURGH, June 17 (AP) — James Reese, 40-year-old former personnel director, today was acquitted of Federal charges that he conspired to secure a draft deferment for a night club waiter.

Later in the day, however, he was back in the same court as a co-defendant on similar charges as the draft evasion trial of restaurateur Frank Valenti got underway.

Reese, who was employed by the Union Steel Castings company, was acquitted in the earlier trial with James Prince, 38, former night club headwaiter. Reese contended the deferment obtained for Prince was an "honest mistake" arising from his firm's wartime practice of getting "blanket deferments" for its employees.

Like Valenti, Reese is charged with conspiring to get a draft deferment for the restaurant owner. Peter Betters, former police chief at Union Steel Castings, also is a co-defendant in the trial.

Vet Held on Larceny In Gray Market Steel

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP) — A 24-year-old Air Force veteran was charged with grand larceny today in the fleeing of $250,000 from 25 persons who were promised huge profits in gray market steel. Bronx Assistant District Attorney Nicholas P. Delagi said the youth, Bernard Striar of the Bronx, admitted taking more than $200,000 from various persons, including relatives. The prosecutor said Striar insisted he had turned the money over to a "Sam Fiescher," for whom the youth said he acted as intermediary. He was unable to identify the man further, Delagi said, adding: "I think Fiescher is a figment of Striar's imagination." He said Striar contended he could buy steel through Fiescher for four and one-half cents a pound and sell it at 12 cents.

URW came close to winning its first game in the City-Industrial league last night, but after playing like champions for four and a half innings the Rubberworkers fell apart and went on to drop a 6-3 decision to Flagg's before 350 fans on Franklin Field.

The Rubberworkers touched pitcher Jimmy Schaeffer for three runs in early innings, but were holding a 3-2 lead as the game moved into the bottom half of the fifth frame.

Two singles and four bad in-field errors allowed Flagg's to score four times to take a lead they never relinquished.

THE LOSS was the sixth in succession for URW this year and shoved the Rubberworkers deeper into the league cellar. The URW nine is now one and a half games behind the seventh place Amvets.

The rally in the fifth allowed Flagg's to cop its sixth victory of the season as compared to three setbacks. Flagg's, winning, pulled to within one-half game of the fourth place All-Stars.

A walk to Mike Sedlock, a fielder's choice, a single by Ecker and a passed ball gave URW its first two

Pine Forge Upsels Local Amvets in Exhibition Tilt, 4-3

Don Boughter's seventh inning single scoring Bob Harner and Doug Rhoads allowed Pine Forge to eke out a 4-3 victory over the Pottstown Amvets in an exhibition game at Pine Forge last night.

Boughter's single highlighted a four-run uprising in the bottom half of the eighth inning for Pine Forge. The rally enabled the home team to overcome a 3-0 deficit and turn what appeared to be sure defeat into victory.

For five innings Ray Gofus and Lefty Doug Schaeffer hooked up in a scoreless pitching duel before the Amvets tagged their first two runs in the sixth frame.

The Pottstownians touched Schaeffer for another run in the eighth and appeared to be headed for a sure win, but Pine Forge knocked Gofus out of the box in the eighth and went on to pound Bobby Hoffman for the winning runs.

Schaeffer went the first eight innings for Pine Forge before giving way to Len Weintraub. The two little twirlers limited the Amvets to four hits. Gofus and Hoffman were tagged for a total of 10 base knocks.

RED SOX TAKE THIRD STRAIGHT FROM INDIANS

Dom DiMaggio's Homer Gives Boston 8-6 Win; Johnson Winning Pitcher

CLEVELAND, June 17 (AP)—The resurgent Boston Red Sox handed the league-leading Cleveland Indians their fourth straight loss today, edging the faltering Tribe 8-6 for a sweep of the three games series.

Dom DiMaggio's sixth-inning home run broke a 6-all deadlock and clinched the game for the Sox, who now have won 11 of their last 14 games.

Don Black started for Cleveland, but failed to last the first inning as Boston tallied three times. Johnny Pesky walked and went to third on Ted Williams' single. Pesky scored on Stan Spence's fly. Black then issued a single to Vern Stephens and a walk to Bobby Goodman to force Williams across the plate. Steve Gromek came in as relief and walked Birdie Tebbets to force another man-in.

THE INDIANS tied it up in their half of the same inning on singles by Larry Doby, Lou Boudreau, a double by Hank Edwards and a single by Joe Gordon.

Boston regained the lead in the second when DiMaggio singled and went to third on Edwards' error. Eddie Robinson muffed Williams' bouncer, and DiMaggio scored. Stephens then clouted his 10th homer.

The Indians tied the count again in the fourth when Edwards singled and Gordon belted his ninth round-tripper. Ken Keltner, the league's pace setter in the home department, then knotted the count with his 16th smash of the season.

Braves Climb Into First Place; Pirates Edge New York, 9-8

Beanlovers Defeat Cubs in Twin-Bill By 7-6, 8-7 Scores

BOSTON, June 17 (AP)—The Boston Braves once again took over the National league lead today, coming from behind twice to edge the cellar shackled Chicago Cubs, 7-6 and 8-7, in a Bunker Hill holiday twin-bill witnessed by 24,714 happy paid fans.

The double triumph gave the Tribe a nine percentage point bulge over the second place Pittsburgh Pirates who shaded the New York Giants, 9-8. The Braves and the Pirates had been tied for first before today's games.

Big Bill Voiselle, who was knocked out of the box in the first inning yesterday by these same Cubs, finished up both games and gained credit for two decisions.

THE BRAVES now have beaten Chicago nine times in ten games between the two clubs.

The Cubs hustled a 5-0 lead in the first game as they drove starter Lefty Warren Spahn to an early tub. The Braves proceeded to score twice in both the third and fifth innings and added three more, enough to win, in the sixth.

Ed Stevens Paces Pittsburgh Attack Against Giants

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates polished off the New York Giants for the third time in a row today, 9 to 8, as the Giant pitchers failed again despite heavy hitting support.

The New Yorkers slammed ten hits for 25 bases, including four home runs off three Pittsburgh hurlers.

First baseman Ed Stevens was the big man in the Pirate attack. His home run with two aboard put Pittsburgh ahead, 6-4, in the seventh. His infield single with the bases loaded in the eighth accounted for another Pirate run.

JOHNNY MIZE hit his 11th home run in the fourth, Bill Rigney hit his fifth and Bobby Thomson hit his seventh in the fifth, and Willard Marshall hit his fifth in the sixth. Each came with the bases empty.

Starter Larry Jansen was the loser for New York, giving way to Sheldon Jones in the seventh. Bobo Newsom took over in the eighth after Jones had loaded the bases on walks and had given up a pair of singles good for two runs.

Vic Lombardi started for Pittsburgh. Elmer Singleton came on in the sixth and was the winner, although he needed help from Kirby Higbe when the Giants rallied for four runs in the eighth.

The final Giant runs came on a pair of walks, a pinch-hit triple by Les Layton and a pair of singles.

CARDINALS BEAT PHILLIES, 4-1, IN NIGHT GAME

Musial's Triple With Bases Loaded in Eighth Downs Curt Simmons

PHILADELPHIA, June 17 (AP)—Stan Musial's triple with the bases loaded and two out in the eighth inning gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-1 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies tonight. Musial also scored on Whitey Kurowski's single.

Until the big eighth, Curt Simmons, young Phillies southpaw, had a slight margin over Harry (The Cat) Brecheen thanks to a fourth inning run. The Phils picked up the tally on singles by Johnny Blatnik, Del Ennis and Eddie Miller and Andy Seminick's fly to center.

But in the eighth Don Lang batted for Del Rice and walked. Joe Medwick pinch-hit for Brecheen and also singled. Red Schoendienst was walked purposely loading the bases and setting the stage for Musial's three-play home. Kurowski batted in the fourth tally.

Tom Wentzel's single with one out in the bottom half of the eighth inning scored Johnny Levegood from third base with the winning run last night as the Pottstown Redbirds defeated Spicer's Cafe, 3-2, for their seventh consecutive City-Industrial softball league victory. The game was played at South Pottstown.

After trying the game in the seventh inning with the aid of Lin Meyer's triple, the Redbirds came to bat in the eighth with loads of pep. Levegood opened the inning by working Don Nagle for a base on balls. He stole second and moved to third on an infield out before Wentzel came through with his game winning blow.

Spicer's Cafe touched Sunny Roen for two runs in the fourth inning after the Redbirds' pitcher had hooked up in a scoreless duel.

Cardinalettes Oppose Lancaster in 3d Game

The Pottstown Cardinalettes and the Lancaster Amencals will continue their touring series tonight when they battle under the lights at Middletown.

The two teams are playing a five-game series in towns around Harrisburg in an attempt to stir up interest in girls softball throughout that area.

Tonight's game is scheduled to start at 8:15 o'clock and is the third time the two teams will meet. Pottstown took the first game from Lancaster, but the Amencals came back to nip the locals, 2-1, at Highspire the past week.

The Cardinalettes will leave Fisher Field at six o'clock.

with Nagle in the first four innings.

ROEN LIMITED Spicer's to two hits, both of which came in the fourth inning when the losers scored their two runs.

The victory increased the Redbirds' lead in the league to two full games over Spicer's, who dropped into a tie for second place with East End, defending softball champs.

In another league game last night, the New York Store scored twice in the seventh inning on two errors, a single by Berry and a fielder's choice to edge the West Pottsgrove Rod and Gun club by a 5-3 count on The Hill far fields.

DETROIT, June 17 (AP)—A ranks to three runs that crossed the plate on errors, the Philadelphia Athletics snapped a six-game Detroit winning streak today by beating the Tigers, 5-2.

The win moved the second place A's within two games of league leading Cleveland.

Carl Scheib hurled a six-hitter to best Dizzy Trout and take his fifth win against two defeats. The Macks collected ten hits off Trout, most anybody has got off Detroit pitching in the Tigers' past ten games.

Dick Wakefield let Ferris Paim's single go between his legs in the sixth and Ray Coleman scored all the way from first on the error.

With the bases loaded in the eighth George Kell threw wildly to the plate on Scheib's grounder and two more Philadelphia runs came in.

Big Five Run Rally In Second Inning Beats Transfiguration Nine

Presbyterian blasted Wes Nichols for five runs in the second inning and then went on to defeat Transfiguration by a 7-5 score in an abbreviated Sunday School league game last night on Swinehart Field. The game was halted after five complete innings because of darkness.

The victory was the second in succession for Presbyterian in the circuit this year after a bad start.

All the scoring came in the first three innings, with Transfiguration taking a 1-0 lead in the very first frame. After Presbyterian's five run outburst in the second, Transfiguration added two runs in its half of the same inning to make it 5-3 but the victors clinched the game with another pair of runs in the third.

Cubs Blank Linfield Groff Hurls 2-Hitter

Met Groff pitched to only 21 batters last night as he limited Linfield to two hits in hurling Ringing Hill to a 4-0 triumph in the Pottstown Suburban League.

Groff gave up two singles to Mike Lesko, but each time Lesko was wiped out on the base paths as the Ringing Hill nine gave the right-hander top-notch support.

The only other man to reach first base was Frank Trojan, who worked Groff for his only base on balls during the contest.

Groff not only turned in a brilliant performance on the mound but also helped his own cause at bat by clouting two singles in three trips to the plate. He scored one of Ringing Hill's four runs.

The Cubs won their first run off Wlazelek in the second inning and wasted little time in adding another in the third. After two scoreless frames the Cubs added their final two runs in the home half of the sixth.

Belhany Nine Trounces Trinity foe by 38-28

In a game that saw more scoring than some football games, Belhany trounced Trinity by a 38-28 score last night in a Midget Recreation softball league tussle on The Hill far fields.

Belhany took an 8-0 lead in the first inning and matched Trinity run for run throughout the final six innings to maintain a comfortable lead.

Trinity however accounted for the biggest inning when it scored 14 times in the sixth inning.

Bechtelsville Giants Dump Reading by 5-1

The Bechtelsville Giants, current leaders in the Berks Recreation league, turned back a scrappy Olivet club of Reading last night by a 5-1 count at Bechtelsville.

The Giants scored first in the opening inning and then rallied for four runs in the third frame to put the game on ice. Charley Ritter's triple in the third with the bases loaded paced the Bechtelsville attack.

Furman H. Gyger, Kimberton, Is Killed By Farm Tractor

Furman H. Gyger, 60, Kimberton, farm leader and five-term representative to the State legislature, was killed instantly yesterday morning when he was caught beneath a tractor as it rolled down a five foot embankment on his farm.

Gyger, who was nominated for his sixth term as representative in the April primary, was raking hay on his 100-acre "Spruce Haven" farm at 10:45 o'clock.

His son, Furman Jr., who was working in the field, saw the rake attached to the tractor plunge over the bank. It carried his father to the roadway, crushing his skull.

It could not be determined whether the tractor hit a hole or the wheels locked. Before his son could summon help as he ran toward the scene of the accident, Mr. Gyger was dead.

Cooper T. Bishop, Chester county coroner, issued a certificate of accidental death.

A FARMER throughout his life, Mr. Gyger served his first term as representative from Chester county's second district in 1926.

During his service at Harrisburg, he served on the agricultural, dairy industries, highways, education, insurance, judiciary, special, municipal corporations and ways and means committees.

A lifelong Kimberton resident, he was a graduate of West Chester State Normal school and a graduate and trustee of Pennsylvania State college.

He was a member of East Vincent Reformed church, a past master of Kimberton and Pomona granges and a number of other farming and insurance groups.

He also was a member of the Phoenixville Rotary club, the Reading Shrine and Phoenixville Lodge 75, F. and A. M.

Surviving are his wife, Francina (Hoffman) Gyger; his son, Furman Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Conant Dodge, Tacoma, Wash., from whose Dodge, Tacoma, Wash., from whose
